Delay Debate On Palestine In U.N. Council

Jews And Arabs Make Counter Charges On Responsibility For Renewed Hostilities

ISSUE COMES UP
AGAIN THURSDAY

By JOSEPH L. RANFT
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Oct. 26.—Further Security Council debate on Palestine was adjourned today after Jews and Arabs renewed charges that the other is responsible for continuing hostilities.

The issue comes up again Thursday.

Egypt formally accused Israel of taking advantage of United Nations deliberations to "match" additional areas of Palestine. Israeli representative Aubrey S. Eban declared the situation in the Negev now has largely been stabilized. He charged, however, that new danger is developing in the north where irregular Lebanese forces are attempting to control communications.

When American chairman Warren Austin moved to adjourn the argumentative session spokesmen for Egypt and Syria protested heatedly.

Says Fighting Continues

Mahmoud Fawzi Bey of Egypt declared:

"I have been informed by telephone from Cairo that fighting is raging in the Negev even now."

"What delays the Jewish withdrawal to positions they occupied before Oct. 14?"

"If the Arabs had committed these violations we would have seen much more furore in these debates."

After assuring that the council "will act in due time but meanwhile will not be lashed into action by charges of bias," Austin adjourned hearings until 10:30 a. m. Thursday.

The largest bus strike in New York city's history ended shortly after 1 p. m. EST today after seven privately-owned lines had been idle for about 4 hours.

A back-to-work order was issued by Michael J. Quill, president of the CIO Trans-

a dramatic appearance by Mayor William O'Dwyer at a strikers' demonstration.

In addition to the New York
City buses, street car lines in suburban Westchester county, operated by the Third Avenue Transit
System, were affected.

Soon after 8 a. m. drivers on the various lines refused to take on passengers and headed back to the garages. By 9 a. m., according to police, all seven lines were involved in the walkout.

The CIO transport workers staged the walkout after rejecting last minute peace pleas by Mayor William O'Dwyer.

Union officials said that the strike was called to enforce the union's demands for retroactive pay and force the Public Service Commission to allow the bus companies a raise in fares to pay retroactive wages.

England Gets Another Loan

Economic Cooperation Administration Signs Agreement For $310,000,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(INS)—England signed a $310,000,000 loan agreement with the economic cooperation administration today.

The announcement was made jointly by ECA and the Export-Import Bank. ECA said that the loan will be used "primarily to finance the purchase of industrial machinery and equipment and industrial raw materials."

Under terms of the agreement, England will have 35 years to repay the loan beginning in 1953 when the Marshall plan is expected to end. The interest rate was set at two and one half per cent annually.

It was the second loan negotiated by the recovery agency and it carried a stipulation that if Britain is unable to meet payments "because of adverse economic conditions or for any other reasons" loan installments can be postponed.

First Loan

In July, ECA announced its first loan to Iceland for $3,500,000 for that country's fishing industry. ECA had previously disclosed that it was planning to extend loans totaling $615,000,000 to ten countries including Britain, and the Netherlands East Indies.

The British loan calls for the beginning of interest payments on a semi-annual basis in 1953 while principal payments will begin semi-annually in 1956. The final loan payment is due at the end of 1963.

ECA said that the British credit received the approval of this country's top fiscal authority, the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Fiscal Problems, headed by Treasury Secretary Snyder.

The Export-Import Bank, which has been designated to handle all ECA loans, will make disbursements for the account of the United Kingdom.

As of last Wednesday, Britain had received a total of $330,860,547 in Marshall plan buying authorizations from the ECA.

Shortly after Mrs. Boyer entered her home, a knock was heard on the door, and the boy asked her if she had lost the four dollars, and upon her affirmative reply, handed them to her. The youth had delivered a paper next door, when he noticed the money.

Evidently new walks are in order for the First Presbyterian church on North Jefferson street. A large concrete brocher was in operation in front of the church on Monday afternoon pulverizing the old walks.

Installation of the added white lights was in progress Monday on the Diamond by electrical workmen. The new lights will eliminate some of the blind spots which were found after the first sets of lights was erected in the downtown section.

The war memorial at the Court and East Washington street intersection has been adorned by several bouquets of cut flowers in remembrance of one of the men who gave his life and his name is inscribed on the memorial stone.

GOVERNOR DEWEY STARTS ON FINAL CAMPAIGN TRIP

Mr. Truman at this late stage in the campaign. The president's charge that the dictator-like forces exist in the Republican party, made last night in Chicago, were not expected to draw a reply in kind from Dewey.

Dewey and his aides left Albany more confident than ever of victory, and especially encouraged by reports that the crucial fight for Senate control was looking better.

They were said to feel that the outlook for saving the GOP seat of Senator Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota, previously almost given up as lost, had brightened much in the past week.

Will Not Alter Campaign

But there was nothing to indicate that Dewey, even to assure a GOP senate, would alter the "high level" campaign approach of ignoring Mr. Truman's sharpest charges in this week's six-state swing.

President Truman beat Dewey into Chicago by one day, following a schedule that will keep him one jump ahead of the New York governor through Saturday.

A total of 128 electoral votes are at stake in the six states Dewey will hit before winding up his campaign in New York City Saturday in Madison Square Garden. They are: Illinois, 28; Ohio, 25; Massachusetts, 16; Rhode Island, 4; Connecticut, 8; and New York, 47.

Tonight the governor may enlarge on the labor issues he discussed in Pittsburgh. His Chicago speech was described as emphasizing that labor, business and agriculture can work together toward unity and prosperity.

Wednesday night he speaks in Cleveland, where a word for Senator Taft, (R) O., co-author of the Taft-Hartley labor law may be in the air; Thursday night in Boston, and Saturday at New York.

ARMISTICE DAY PLANS COMPLETE

at 7 p. m., and will move out from Division street, on South Mill, north to Croton avenue, thence to East Washington street, and west on Washington street to the Diamond, thence north to Falls street, where it will disband.

The various committee appointments for the day have been announced by Chairman Hunt, as follows:

Parade Marshal, William Seltzer; finance chairman, Edward G. Eakin; parade chairman, Henry Jordan; bands and competition, Arnold Barnsley; entertainment, Norman Minner; memorial service, Emmett L. Kutz, and James A. Bell.

The Senior high school band will have a busy day. They will play for the memorial service in the morning, and will head the parade in the evening, leaving immediately afterwards for Tazewell Field, where they will play for the football game which has been arranged for the occasion.

Organizations wishing representation in the parade have been asked to contact Parade Marshal Seltzer.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN TO SPEAK TONIGHT AT CLEVELAND, O.

A million wildly shouting people turned out in Chicago last night for a torchlight parade, complete with a Fourth of July and New Year's eve fireworks display rolled into one, to give the president one of the greatest acclamations of his three years in the White House.

Huge Reception

A thunderous ovation was given the president as the torchlight procession that included floats, bands and drum majorettes, escorted him to the stadium.

Mr. Truman, riding in an open convertible, brought up the rear of the parade along a two-mile line of march through the heart of Chicago's loop. He is being broadcast by as he acknowledged the cheering crowds.

Today, the president again invades Indiana and Ohio, the states which with Illinois, Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts probably will decide the outcome of next Tuesday's election.

Mr. Truman will speak in five cities today before arriving in Cleveland at 5 p. m., for the major address of the day's campaigning.

SMASH REVOLT PLOT

The arrested were said to include Harmodio Arias, brother of exiled former President Arnulfo Arias.

PREPARE TO OBSERVE NAVY DAY WEDNESDAY

regular and reserve—will provide air shows over almost all major cities.

All the braid in the Navy, and top ranking civilian officials of all the armed services are speaking throughout the country. In all, more than 130 flag officers and civilians will tell the world of the Navy and its work. And in 1,500 communities fraternal and civic organizations will sponsor their own celebrations.

In short, no one who has a radio or looks at the sky or can see navigable water will be able to avoid Navy Day.

Observance Is Begun

The Navy opened observances last Sunday when flowers were dropped from ships and planes on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and off the Normandy beaches in memory of sailors and Marines killed in action.

In a less solemn mood, the Navy unveiled its new Wave uniforms by Mainbocher—in a fashion show at the Pentagon with real, live professional models.

The models on display tomorrow will be garbed in the familiar blues and whites, and will be preponderantly male. But they will be cleaned and pressed and shining, and so will the ships and installations.

Oct. 27 has been celebrated as Navy Day since 1922. It is the anniversary of the day in 1775 when the first resolution to create a sea-going defense force was introduced in the Continental Congress.

In addition, it is the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt, whose support of the Navy when he was president earned him the title of "Father of the Modern Navy".

asked the Security Council to take severe measures to preserve peace and security in the troubled Holy Land.

The Egyptian asserted that the Security Council's previous inactivity and delay in considering the Palestine issue had encouraged Jews to commit alleged aggressions.

Then he charged that the Israelis are snatching areas while the Security Council deliberates because the Jews are convinced that any accomplished seizures will be respected and the grabbed territory considered as belonging to the State of Israel.

The foreign minister declared: "We need not only a cease-fire order but also a vigorous and energetic attitude by the Security Council to prevent violations."

The Palestine debate was opened by United States Delegate Warren Austin.

the major western powers by pointing out that the king, in conjunction with the United States and France, is now considering further measures in view of Russia's veto yesterday of a compromise resolution to settle the Berlin blockade issue.

Tribute To U. S.

At another point the king paid tribute to the generosity of the U. S. saying: "Fortified by the generous aid of the United States, and working together with other members of the Commonwealth and the organization for European economic co-operation, we shall hope to progress further towards paying our way abroad and restoring prosperity in our country and the world."

The opening ceremony, glittering in regal splendor for the first time in 10 years, served to emphasize Britain's efforts to repair the ravages of the last war.

King George declared that this still "troubled world" has been hindered in recovering from the last major conflict "by distrust and dissension between the nations".

DAMAGE PROPERTY

Damage was committed at 311 Vine street last night by Halloweeners, according to a report made at police headquarters.

WESTERN POWERS GIVE RUSSIA TIME TO LIFT BLOCKADE

that any resolution there will mean Soviet non-participation and finally a veto.

Western sources continue to insist that taking the Berlin matters to the assembly means they will have to retrace the issue from beginning to end, with every group using the situation as a political football.

The Big Three may take some days to make a decision on a future move, and meanwhile Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky undoubtedly will contact the Kremlin.

May Proceed Outside U. N.

Moscow has before it a clear-cut American invitation to go ahead outside the Security Council and lift the blockade. The invitation was contained in the words of Dr. Philip Jessup who said: "The three (western governments) have indicated acceptance of principles contained in the resolution (voted yesterday by the Russians). If the government of the Soviet Union would give reciprocal assurances that the program suggested in the resolution would be carried out it can be done."

The majority opinion is that Jessup's bid will fall on deaf ears at the Kremlin.

Consider Next Move

The six "neutrals" of the Security Council who devised the compromise resolution which contained no condemnation of Russia are meeting again today to consider what their next move should be.

It is understood that this group is expecting a feeler from the Big Three on the question of a new resolution which would hold an indictment of the Russians on the ground that the west first had yielded to a compromise formula.

FIFTY YEARS IN BUSINESS

No, it isn't very long ago, fifty years. It seems a long time ahead, when you are a young man, but to look back over the years, it only seems a short time, and a great many things can happen during the short time of fifty years. People are born, and people die; people start in business, and people close up their business careers, but time waits on no man, it still continues to go on.

Fifty years this Saturday night, since I entered in business in Lawrence County, and hope to live to start the fifty-first. Thanks to good health, good friends, and what success we have had. Hope to see you next year again!

MUD IN THE HOME STATION

The campaign for the presidency of the United States is in the home stretch and the outlook is for a muddy track. Not the sort of mud that slows up thoroughbred horses, but political mud that impresses few fair minded Americans and ill becomes those who throw it.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey has issued orders that no mud is to be hurled by Republican speakers. A laudable position. From the Democratic ranks the barrage is underway, headed by no less a personage than the president himself, a candidate for re-election.

By invective, by dark hints of depression if the Republicans are elected, by specious promises of what he intends to do Mr. Truman has toured much of the country with campaign speeches upon the level of those usually found in ward politics.

One question answers all of Truman's rainbow promises. Why were they not put into effect in the long years the Democratic administration had a blank check from Congress?

Mr. Truman has studiously avoided the international field, has assiduously avoided explaining the blunders of Yalta, Teheran, and Potsdam, has tread lightly upon the issue of Communism in the government. He has in short acted like a candidate who knew he was licked but was determined to grasp any straw or any issue no matter how feeble.

We can look for mud this week in the campaign, but this year Americans seem to be in no mood to welcome it.

Mr. Truman finishes his campaign next Saturday night in St. Louis. Most appropriately too. For St. Louis is and was the headquarters of the iniquitous Prendergast gang, the gang that first started him up the political ladder.

WE NEED TO BE TOLD

The full brainpower of America's fabulous and frenetic advertising empire is about to be turned loose on another product—the American system of economy. Stagnantly, the "audience group" will not be the Russians or the Europeans. It's us, the American public!

Purpose of the campaign, as announced by the Advertising Council, is to teach Americans the economics of this country. In other words, tell 'em why we are what we are today.

This will be no one-shot affair. Advertisements will run for at least a year in newspapers and magazines, and radio, billboards and other media will carry the word to every nook and cranny of the land. It will probably be one of the most challenging assignments advertising, as a unit, ever tackled.

Those in charge of the campaign will use all the tricks and the hard won knowledge that have successfully sold soap, cigarettes, motor cars and the 1001 other products of our system of free enterprise. Never before, in our knowledge, have spokesmen from all classes gotten together to back a single economic credo.

We cannot say enough in praise of the campaign. But we cannot help being ashamed that it's necessary to spend good time and money to tell ourselves how well off we really are. But a glance at events of the last 15 years will make it clear that the project is necessary. After all, Wallace was perilously close to being President only four years ago.

NAVY DAY WEDNESDAY

Nobody knows what the next war will be like, but many persons are convinced that it will be so horrible that the greatest task of mankind is to see that it never happens. There are two ways to do that. One is complete, universal disarmament. The other is for some non-aggressor state to be so strong that no other nation will dare to start a war, because even in victory the loss would be too horrible to bear.

Total disarmament is an ideal. Until it can be attained, the alternative is the only course, and the United States happens to be the only country in the world qualified to fulfill the obligation it imposes.

To this end the United States must maintain its military strength—on land, on the sea and in the air, and in research and development on the incredible weapons and counter-measures of the future. Our Navy, the mightiest in the world, has never let us down. And seapower will continue to be a mighty weapon until the day when vast air fleets can more economically and more effectively transport all the men and all the material required to invade and conquer an enemy country.

We should remember this Wednesday, for that is Navy Day, sponsored every year on the anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt by the Navy League of the United States as an occasion on which the nation may pay homage to the men and ships of the fleet, and voice its determination to keep our Navy strong.

The corn crop is the largest on record, the Department of Agriculture announces for the benefit of those who have not been listening to the radio.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The annual conference of British dominion and colonial prime ministers in London has come to an end.

And once again, in characteristic British fashion, one of the most important aspects of its deliberations may be found in an omission.

For the first time in their long and traditional series of solemn meetings, the leading statesmen of the empire that no longer greatly wishes to be called an empire failed to identify themselves as representatives of the British commonwealth of nations.

Instead, their final communiqué spoke of the worldwide entity merely as the commonwealth of nations.

And with this was touched off a rapid fire chain of speculation.

Long-Range Plan
Has the labor government of Prime Minister Attlee a long-range plan to restore the prestige that has been lost by withdrawal from Palestine, the granting of dominion status to India and other measures that Winston Churchill has deplored as self-destruction?

Is there an idea that in the future some areas in the far-flung reaches of the world which are dissatisfied with their present status and lacking protection in the event of another war might look to commonwealth membership as a possible solution to their problems?

All of civilization at the moment is engaged with the east-west Berlin crisis and the ponderous efforts of the United Nations security council to bring about a solution.

But the emergency of the hour never have prevented Great Britain from looking far into the future.

Profound Change
It is certain that since the end of the second world war the machinery that for centuries operated British imperialism has been undergoing a profound change. But with this change, this gradual alteration of precepts embedded in history, fundamental principles have remained.

In recent months, the essential permanency of British policy has been shown with the east-west Falkland Islands, a wilderness of sea-swept rocks off the eastern coast of Argentina, close to the Antarctic region.

Both Argentina and Chile, mindful of the fact that the British dominion seemed to be drawing in its claws and that King George had dropped his title of emperor when India and Pakistan became self-governing dominions, asserted claims to these fundamentally strategic areas.

The immediate result was an uproar in parliament.

Then came dispatch of a British naval task force from South Africa. And the Falklands still are under British sovereignty.

Constant Emergencies
The constant and recurring emergencies of post-war have served to divert daily attention from larger issues which are certain to play a major role in what-

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

NO DISGRACE TO BE MENTALLY ILL

All of us may be a bit under the weather mentally at times. On the average, every other hospital bed in the United States is occupied by a mental patient.

The person who is mentally ailing or mentally sick may be the least ready to sense the need of psychiatric aid. Usually some other member of the family discerns this need first. When he or she does, the family physician should be asked to recommend a psychiatrist (a psychiatrist is an M.D. who specializes in mental sickness). It may require skillful planning then to get the person to go willingly to the psychiatrist. Sometimes a friend can help in this direction.

Then there is the problem of winning the relatives, few close friends and other members of the family to proper understanding and attitudes toward the patient. Sometimes the fact that this person is being treated as a mental patient should be revealed to these other persons, sometimes it shouldn't. Let the psychiatrist advise thereon. Needless to say that mental illness in any member of the family affects all other members, including the children.

Taken Forcibly
Not nearly so many patients are willing to enter a mental hospital when professionally advised to do so as the number who are willing to enter a "regular" hospital. Some mental patients must be taken forcibly.

Judging from the letters I receive, many parents try to keep their children from knowing that another member of the family is in a mental hospital. Some parents say they fear these children might reveal the fact to their playmates and hear the patient spoken of disparagingly as "crazy."

What a fine thing it would be if parents and teachers would lead children never to use such words as "crazy!"

Sensible Attitude
We have made long strides toward acquiring a sensible attitude toward mental illness, since the days when persons sick in mind were supposed to be "possessed of the devil" and were treated as better than beasts. But we have a long way to go before being mentally ill will properly be considered as respectable as being physically ill.

Just because most people feel that being mentally indisposed or ill is something to hide and be ashamed of, the problem of getting a member of the family to choose treatment by a private psychiatrist or by a hospital is so difficult; and why, moreover, a person returning home as cured from a mental hospital may find it hard to gain total permanent recovery. The attitude of the family and the community toward a person discharged from a mental hospital is usually as unfavorable as toward a person discharged from a prison.

The person returning from a mental hospital needs the same wholesome, hopeful, cheerful welcome as if he had returned following an operation or serious physical illness. But even in his own family he may not be so received. The fear of what others might think and say, betrayed in the speech and action of every member of the family and by the relatives and friends are there. Then there are curious people who ask the returning patient silly, embarrassing questions—always somebody who won't let him feel he is a wholly normal person. Pastors and other religious leaders have an opportunity for doing a truly great service in all these matters.

How I envy my wife!

While I, like the sucker I am, listen to campaign oratory, read it in my paper, look at it on television, she calmly sits in the same room with me and, from the very same paper, gathers the information that pork chops have just come down another two cents a pound.

When Truman or Dewey orates about this or that, it doesn't mean a thing to her. But she is rushing like mad to New York tomorrow to take advantage of a sale of bed-sheets and towels about which the just read.

I tried to awaken her political consciousness, appeal to her patriotism, arouse her to the lurking dangers.

She calmly reminded me that this world has been in existence for many years. She called my attention to the column I had written only yesterday on the same subject.

She had definitely decided for whom she was going to vote long before the campaign started.

And, come to think of it, so have I, and most likely you have, too.

Yes, we shout, and we clap and we go crazy with enthusiasm. Then we sit down, wipe our brow and wonder "what did he say?"

But it's a lot of fun and I wouldn't miss it for anything. (Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Iron Curtain Hallowe'en

Washington Calling

(By Marjorie Childs)

Unity Plea Sounds Strange

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The gentle plea for unity sounds very strange against the background of the urgent Republican necessity of this final week of the campaign.

That necessity is to win a majority in the senate in order to organize the upper chamber.

The Republicans could make a powerful argument which would appeal to the independent voter. They could point out that with a Democratic majority key committee positions would be held by aging and reactionary southern Democrats. These tired bourgeois could be expected to oppose all the promise that candidate seems to hold out.

But that argument is not being made. Or, at any rate, it is not being made by anyone with sufficient voice to carry it to the nation. Instead, the appeal for unity falls on the voters' ears with all the vigorous impact of a feather falling on velvet.

Reasons Not Hard To Find
Strange as this may seem at first blush, the reason is not hard to find. It lies in the fact that Republican orators are going through the south proclaiming that the southern Democrat and the Republican are one and the same, brothers in the bond in purpose and performance.

This is, of course, for southern consumption. It is aimed at catching the electoral votes of those southern states which, thanks to the Dixiecrats, may end up in the Republican column. We find Senator Robert A. Taft saying in a campaign speech in Nashville, Tenn.

"Today the world has changed. The Truman party favors a complete control in Washington. The Republican party believes in freedom."

One Man's Opinion
By Walter Kierman

The war department has ordered five million undershirts and one million shorts. This should give a standing army of four million during the cold months.

But members of the WAC now are permitted to buy their own girdles. The government has no intention of restraining the girls in any way.

And if Stalin is not impressed by the reactivation of the WAC he just doesn't realize that we mean business.

Anyway it's nice to see the Berlin situation coming to an end while we still have the upper hand... 3,000 feet up.

For awhile there it appeared that a crisis was approaching. The air forces and orders out for 14 million gold-plated buttons.

It also was contemplating buying a few planes.

WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED
"The doctor is coming for dinner," she said.

"So tonight I shall serve neither butter nor bread; Neither sugar nor salt on the table will be."

No cocktail to start with; no coffee, no tea; "

"No oil for the salad—just one lettuce leaf— And as for the meat course, it can't be roast beef So red that its juices the platter will run. One lamb chop, if small and is very well done."

No ice cream for sweets, and no rich macaroons. Dessert will be simple—a couple of prunes. There'll be nothing he likes that will turn into fat. You may trust me, my dear, to make certain of that.

I ran through the menu, and, shaking my head, "It doesn't seem much of a dinner," I said.

And she answered, I fancied, with venomous glee: "It is just what the doctor has ordered for me."

Next Week-Get Even Day!

By PAUL GALLICO

Next week comes Election, or Get-Even day, really one of the most wonderful and satisfactory days, if not THE most satisfactory in the entire year. It is the day when we pick up The Vote and rally forth to fling it at the skulls of all the clunks, fatheads, schemer-artists and chiselers who have harassed us into putting them into public office.

Ah, The Vote! What a beautiful weapon. Take it up and belt it and feel its balance. So light in weight you can hardly notice it in your pocket and yet it is big enough to flatten a giant. Observe the smooth, easy trigger pull and the sweet, simple aiming device. You can't miss with it. One simple operation and bang, another phony bites the dust.

What A Country To Live In
What a country to live in where once a year it is open season on boobs, fourflushers, cheapies and out-and-out crooks, and they let you fare forth with your trusty Vote and blow them out of office. True, you may blow a couple of others in during the process, but then there's always another year and another Election Day. That's what's so wonderful about it.

Under our laws, you are not permitted, even under extreme provocation, to enter the sanctum of some addle-head in office and drag him out of his wretched chair by the necktie, but under the same civilized laws they do permit you to belt him with your Vote with the same results, or even better.

One day, there he is sitting on his little throne, swelled up with self-importance, cocking up mischief against you in the name of personal pride or vanity or just plain greed, double-crossing you and selling you down the river. You have out the trusty old .45 calibre Vote and let fly. BANG! Next day he ain't there any more. Now you see him, now you don't.

A Miracle Weapon
No mess. No bloodshed. Nothing to clean up afterwards. A miracle weapon. Aren't you proud that you've got one?

Now is the time to think about getting it out of the closet, inspecting and overhauling it to see that it is oiled and greased and hasn't grown rusty from disuse and will be ready for next week and the day on which you will get hung.

For you know that whatever it is that is fretting you, somebody in public office from selectman or village dog-catcher to President of the United States, had a hand in doing it to you—or in failing to do things he ought to have done.

Taxes, shortages, lack of housing, high prices, traffic jams, war jitters, lousy farmers, dollar drinks, strikes, late trains, Communist picture child performers on the radio, unemployment, high tariffs, low tariffs, John L. Lewis, the disappearance of penny candy—whatever is depressing you these days and interfering with your pursuit of happiness, you have only to track to its source the government official responsible, level the trusty Vote at him, squeeze the trigger and you've got him.

Week From Today
Large or small, rich or poor, cheat or honest fool, hanger-on or powerful demagogue there is no public official or politician who can stand up to your vote a week from today. That's the day when YOU are the boss and he sits trembling in his shoes waiting to see whether he's still got his job—and his skin when the voting is over. Just listen to him these days telling you how much he loves you. He can see the bulge of that old deady vote in your hip pocket and it gives him the screaming meemies.

But the beauty of the weapon is that it is not alone destructive. It works both ways. For not only will it blast a boob into oblivion, but on the rebound it will knock a good man into office where he can help the country and the people he represents.

Sweet Vote! Lovely Vote! See that stuffed shirt over there who has been wind-bagging for two solid years in Congress? I can hardly wait. And good hunting to you, too, folks. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

JOBS UPON A TIME

FROM FARM GIRL to campus queen was the way Donna Reed, film actress began her career.

Donna was studying secretarial work at Los Angeles City college when she was chosen campus queen and when her picture was published in the newspapers, the movie studios spotted it and made offers.

Donna insisted upon finishing college first, however, then she went into the movies, her first picture being "So Here, Private Hargrove." Her next, "It's A Wonderful Life."

CARL A. HATCH of New Mexico, United States senator, was born in Kirwin, Kans., and after being graduated from college and law school, began the practice of law in Eldorado, Okla., in 1912.

He moved to Clovis, N. M., in 1916 and became assistant attorney general of the state, then district judge. Hatch was appointed senator in 1933 to fill the unexpired term of Sam G. Bratton, and has been elected to office ever since his term expiring in 1949.

Senator Taft makes a sensible rejoinder to the president's criticism in a recent issue of The Saturday Evening Post. He cites the president's own economic report as saying that more than a million new residential units will be added to the residential supply in 1948 and quotes: "This volume of residential construction is already straining the capacities of the construction industry in many areas and of producers of some construction materials, and is unquestionably competing with other primary national needs."

Recalls Emergency Powers
Senator Taft recalls the emergency powers granted to the president early in the Truman administration to deal with the housing problem, along with subsidy of hundreds of millions of dollars, and calls attention to the complete failure of the program, with Mr. Truman "firing" Housing Administrator Wilson Wyatt and returning most of the subsidies to the treasury. He adds that more than twice the number of homes are being built this year than were built under Wyatt's regime.

The Ohio Senator calls attention to the fact that housing credit is one of the elements adding to inflation and to the additional fact that too much of this credit was going into housing too high-priced for most citizens. As a result practically no rental properties have been built. The bill as passed at the special session, he says, is aimed to encourage cheap types of housing and more rental units.

Brownell Sees Dewey Victory

G. O. P. Chairman Predicts "Smashing Victory" On November 2

TRUMAN'S CAMPAIGN SLIPPING, HE SAYS

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Herbert Brownell, Jr., Republican national campaign manager, predicted today that the Dewey-Warren ticket will win "a smashing victory" in New York state and the nation on November 2.

He said he was confident the Republican party will increase its present majority in the House and will "at least hold its present majority in the Senate."

Senate Fight Hardest
"The hardest fight will be for the Senate posts," declared Brownell. "The outcome of the senatorial contests will be determined by which side does the best organizational work in the final week of the campaign."

"We have the majority of votes. Our job is to get them to the polls and see that they are honestly counted."

Brownell contended the Democratic party is "slipping" in the final phase of the presidential race.

"The American people have responded enthusiastically to the constructive approach of Gov. Dewey and Gov. Warren to the issues of the campaign," said Brownell.

President Slips

"Our latest reports show that President Truman has slipped during the past week. We believe this is due to the fact that he is name-calling and stirring up antagonism rather than constructively discussing the issues of the day."

With State Chairman Alger B. Chapman standing beside him, Brownell asserted that Dewey surely will win New York state "and carry with him the largest number of congressmen we have had in the state for many years."

Brownell told newsmen the GOP "will leave no stone unturned" to see that the ballots are correctly counted in certain states.

He pointed out that charges of illegalities have been made in Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. He said the situation in those states will be closely watched.

Dewey To Win Campaign
Gov. Dewey will spend the final days of the campaign—and election night—in New York, according to Brownell.

Dewey is due in New York on Friday after a trip into Connecticut and Rhode Island.

On Saturday night, at a huge rally in Madison Square Garden, Dewey will deliver "one of the most important speeches of his campaign," Brownell said.

On Monday night Dewey from New York and Warren from Sacramento, Calif., will do a nationwide broadcast over both NBC and CBS from 9 to 10 p. m. EST. Gov. Dewey, Brownell and various party leaders, will hear the election returns Tuesday night at GOP headquarters in the Hotel Roosevelt. Private plans already are under way for a "victory celebration."

Favorable Basis For Continued Prosperity Seen

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Treasury Secretary Snyder declared Monday that this country has an "unusually favorable basis for continued prosperity."

Snyder told the Los Angeles Town Hall that if Americans avoid the mistakes of the past, the United States "will have an unparalleled prospect before us."

The top federal fiscal authority said in his address:

"Today we see very little evidence of weakness in the economic structure, apart from the price situation."

Snyder declared that the government is using every available anti-inflation weapon, although it "has only limited weapons for this battle."

He reminded, however, that Americans must not forget the 1929 depression and he laid down two points designed "to fortify the nation against a depression." They were:

1. Prevent "over-buying, over-borrowing and over-building."
2. Maintain consumer purchasing power and provide security to people during the early stages of a business recession.

Newark News Urges Election Of Dewey-Warren

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 26.—(INS)—The Newark Evening News urged in an editorial Monday the election of the Republican presidential ticket of Governors Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren.

The newspaper, which has a circulation of 250,000 and is traditionally independent, made no choice in 1944, but supported the late Wendell L. Wilkie in 1940.

The Evening News traced the record of the Truman administration, and then added:

"On the basis of this record there ought to be a change and there is a promising alternative to Mr. Truman and the disrupted Democratic party."

"That alternative is offered in the Republican candidacy of two young and vigorous governors—Gov. Dewey of New York as the candidate for president and Gov. Warren as the candidate for vice president."

"At Albany, Mr. Dewey has surrounded himself with top-rank advisers and there is every reason to believe he will do the same in Washington. He is well-equipped to reorganize the top side of the national government and to clear up the confusion of an administration that has been in office too long.

"He has shown an ever-widening grasp of what our relations with the rest of the world must be."

It never gets "too cold to snow", but occasionally it gets too cold for the snow to fall in flakes. Flakes fall when the air through which they pass is 32 degrees Fahrenheit or slightly lower. The air at this temperature usually holds enough moisture to allow the flakes to "mat together" and the fall thus is likely to be heavy.

Phenomenal Spud Yield Recorded

William Hammerschmidt, Of R. D. 4, Produces 568 Bushels Per Acre

LAST YEAR'S YIELD HOLIPESED

When William Hammerschmidt of R. D. 4 produced a yield of 434 bushels of potatoes to an acre last year he was looked upon as a miracle man, but this year's yield exceeded the 1947 crop by 124 bushels per acre.

Yesterday, Assistant County Agent John Holbert checked Hammerschmidt's yield, and was astounded to find that the 1948 crop will produce 568 bushels per acre. In other words, Mr. Hammerschmidt is going to dig 6,223 bushels from his 12-acre plot.

Mr. Hammerschmidt uses plenty of fertilizer, buys the best certified seed available, and sprays frequently during the growing season. That these improved methods pay big dividends is attested to by the phenomenal yield.

The past summer has been a good one for potatoes, and most potato growers will have a good yield, but it is doubtful if anyone in this section of the state will eclipse Mr. Hammerschmidt's yield.

Fruit Growers To Have Meeting

Lawrence county fruit growers will meet Thursday evening, October 23, at 8 o'clock in the offices of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association in the Federal building on the Diamond.

The fruit growers will be looking forward to next year, and will make plans to meet the situation, of conditions similar to those experienced this year confront them.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By Ernest G. Osborne

WHY NOT TRY THIS?

"Puppy Love"

Close friendships between boys and girls are likely to develop as they move into the early teens. "Boy friends" and "girl friends" should be expected by parents, and even welcomed. All of us want our youngsters to have a happy family life when they grow up. One way to assure this is through a number of close friendships that give them opportunities to know those of the opposite sex well.

Apparently, it seems funny to many parents when they see that their youngsters like to spend a good deal of time with a "boy friend" or a "girl friend." At any rate, there is often a good deal of rather heavy-handed humor, which is not appreciated by the youngsters and which often makes them self-conscious. For this sort of behavior by parents and other relatives may well push the youngster into a more "romantic" friendship than he would otherwise develop.

It is far better to put the "wise-cracks aside and show a quiet interest in the youngster's friends. Our young people are growing up and we should be happy to see that they are growing normally. And to have special friends of the opposite sex is very normal.

Ask the woman who owns one

By tradition,
she's entitled to the last word.
So Packard has built it for her!

She might not care whether what's under the bonnet is a "free-breathing" straight eight, or a turbo jet.

But when she praises delightful responsiveness, and the soothing smoothness of Packard power... we like it! (What man ever put so dainty a shoe against an accelerator pedal and got such results?)

She might not care whether Packard's superior roadability and handling ease are achieved by advanced engineering, or by happy little gremlins.

But when she tells us that her Packard has the restful riding ease of a limousine, and the finger-tip handling of a tiny tot's stroller... we beam!

And when it comes to styling, and tailoring, and convenience features, she's always been the No. 1 authority—and New York's Fashion Academy confirms her good judgment in preferring Packard.

Come in—learn all the reasons why the most enthusiastic "man who owns one" is often a woman!

Twelve Hurt When Bus Leaves Road Due To Fog

Butler, Pa., Man Among Those Hurt In Accident Near Zanesville, O.

ZANESVILLE, O., Oct. 20.—(INS)—Twelve persons were injured today when a New York-to-St. Louis bus careened off route 40, the National Highway, in a heavy fog two miles east of Zanesville.

Five of the injured were held at Bethesda hospital, Zanesville, for further treatment, but were said to be out of danger. The other seven, including Driver C. E. Bailey, 39 of (400 Yale avenue) Columbus, were released after treatment.

Highway patrolmen said the bus, owned by American Bus Lines, went off the berm, tore up 100 feet of steel guard rail, tore the front off the grocery and filling station of Clifford German, and finally came to rest against the side of a hill, 300 feet from the point where it started to skid.

Among the injured was George Glasser, 60, Butler, Pa., who was released after hospital treatment.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

Washington High Visual Aid Leader

Extensive Program Planned At High School On North Hill
This School Year

More than 150 films will be shown at George Washington Junior High during the 1948-49 school year. The films, all sound, represent one of the most extensive visual aid programs of any school in the state.

In the spring of last year, members of the faculty met according to the department in which they instruct. With Arthur Walker as coordinator, films ranging from 10 to 25 minutes in length had been procured for preliminary screening. The teachers then decided what films would be most suitable for their courses and the time in the school year that the films would be appropriate.

Two sound projectors are available in the building and under the instruction of Mr. Walker, most of the teachers have mastered the art of showing pictures in their own rooms.

Sources of the films are varied but include such places as the U. S. Secret Service, U. S. Dept. of Commerce, Penn State College, Pennsylvania College for Women and General Motors Corporation. The interesting list of films includes "David Copperfield" and "Treasure Island" for English classes, "Our Bill of Rights" and "Pennsylvania Local Govt. in Action" for civics, "Boston Tea Party" and "Lincoln in the White House" for history, "Diesel Power" and "The Story of Oil" are shown to the science classes.

On a specially prepared form, each teacher evaluates the film in light of her own and student reaction. The value of each film is continually being scrutinized so that this extremely successful visual aid program can continually be improved.

SNEAK THIEF

Sneak thieves do a lot of damage. They usually do not steal very much at a time but they keep at it. They are pretty hard to catch, too.

There are some diseases which act like sneak thieves. They do not cause very much trouble at first. A person may have a little fever or feel a little tired for a few days.

Then he gets better and feels all right for a while.

The disease is still on the job and after a lot of damage is done the disease is found.

Tuberculosis and cancer are syphilis and diabetes and heart disease and kidney trouble are sneak thieves.

It is a hard job to catch them at first. They usually work quietly for a long time. They do not cause enough trouble to arouse suspicion.

When the victim discovers that there is something wrong he finds that considerable damage has been done.

a pretty good job in the matter of housing—so good a job, as Mr. Truman's economic reports say, that it is already "straining the capacities of the construction industry."

The bill adopted at the special session does not substitute government construction for private construction, but gives plenty of encouragement to private construction. That is about as far as government legitimately can go.

Dewey, who promises the clean sweep of a new broom, knows how to go to town on this if he were of a mind to. He could show how these southerners get set on the escalator of seniority and stay there until it carries them up to key positions in which they can block and obstruct what does not please them.

But the odds are against candidate Dewey hitting hard on this issue. It might offend southern voters and cost a few electoral votes thereby scaling down the electoral landslide so confidently expected by the men who have managed the Dewey campaign.

Southerners by their protest votes will increase the Dewey total. But it would be a mistake to count on southern support in the senate after Nov. 2.

ever sort of world is being built for posterity.

Bi-partisan British preoccupation with the western European union while still giving wholehearted support to the United Nations is of great importance.

Likewise is the growing sentiment in the islands in favor of something that might jibe with Churchill's dream of a United States of Europe, a vast continental federation in which old jealousies and misunderstandings would be wiped out in an avalanche of good-will and mutual trust.

The best minds of Britain, as well as those of other European nations, realize that such a venture is ill-starred from the beginning simply because Europe always has been the cockpit of war and sometimes seems destined to remain so as long as the earth revolves in the universe.

Might it not be considered natural, then, that the representatives of the British dominions should begin to look upon themselves as the creators and guardians of a new type of world founded upon the old?

Regardless of the rights or wrongs involved, the men behind what now is called merely the Commonwealth of Nations seem to be thinking along that line.

Two Lawrence Co. Boys In National F.F.A. Chorus

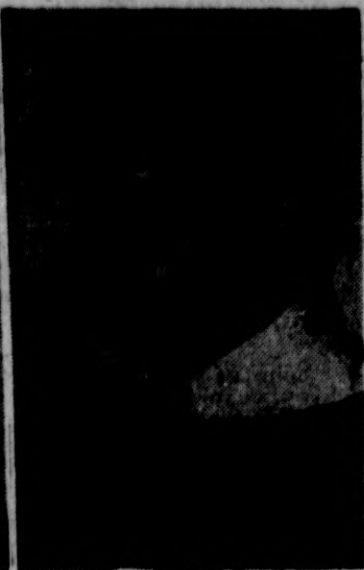

LELAND McCULLOUGH

Lawrence county will have two representatives in the National FFA chorus to be held at Kansas City, Mo., November 14 to 18. With these boys from Pennsylvania appearing in the 100-voice male chorus, it is unusual for more than one to be selected from a single district. The Lawrence county boys are Leland McCullough, R. D. 1, New Galilee, and Sam Ralston, R. D. 2, Knox Valley. Floyd D. Ralston of near Cochranton is the other Pennsylvania boy.

One hundred farm boys from all over the United States will form the National FFA chorus at Kansas City, under the direction of Dr. James Hatch, assistant state supervisor of vocational agriculture, New York state. The chorus will furnish music for the 50th anniversary celebration of the Future Farmers of America. The boys in the chorus have never sung together before and most have not even met as yet. They will rehearse with Dr. Hatch from November 8 to 13 before the convention starts.

Both Lawrence county boys, graduates of North Beaver township high school, are from well known musical families. Sam, who will sing first tenor, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ralston, while Leland, who will sing second tenor, is the son of W. H. McCullough, past master of the Lawrence county Pomona grange and member of the state legislature. The boys will also be members of the state band at Farm Show in Harrisburg during January.

Plan To Discuss
Preventive Care
Of School Teeth

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Preventive dentistry under trial in Bethlehem schools will be the subject of a three-day conference opening at Harrisburg November 3 under the sponsorship of the State Dental Society.

The session was called by Dr. Frank W. Nash, of Scranton, chairman of the society's Council on Dental Health, to determine the potential use of sodium fluoride to curb tooth decay and whether parents could afford to pay for preventive care for their children.

"We owe it to ourselves and the communities in which we live to carefully examine every phase of this important problem and to take such steps as are indicated to bring about the widest understanding and cooperation in such a program," Nash said.

Invitations to the meeting have been sent to dental practitioners, civic groups, professional organizations and local government agencies.

Refuse Review Of Anti-Picketing Law Conviction

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(INS)—The Supreme Court refused today to review the conviction of 35 motion picture workers for violation of a California anti-picketing order.

The 35 petitioners claimed in their appeal that they were deprived of constitutional rights by the order, which directed them to stop picketing Columbia Studios, and by the trial that followed.

They asserted that the complaint filed against them was "too vague, ambiguous and uncertain" to be legal and that they were denied "due process of law" when forced to stand trial as a group.

Their trial resulted in sentences running from one year in jail to two years probation, and fines totalling $9,650.

Erie delivers the goods...
and helps pay your children's schooling!

It costs on the average about $2500 to take a child from kindergarten up through high school. Multiply that by the number of children in your school system and you are talking big money. This money comes from local taxes on real estate and other sources. An important part of the total tax bill comes from the Erie Railroad. Every community along the line benefits from the taxes that Erie pays—taxes that total millions of dollars every year!

So, in addition to making jobs, and acting as a vital link with your community and the rest of the world, the Erie Railroad plays a part in giving your children a good start in life.

Report German General Flees Russian Zone

By OMER ANDERSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—A disident anti-Soviet campaign was reported mounting today within the Russian-sponsored free Germany movement.

First accounts of the developing move were reported by the British-licensed newspaper Telegraf which said one of the German generals who arrived recently in Berlin to work for a free German government has fled to western Germany.

The German agency DENA also reported that the Russians are planning to incorporate police of the Soviet eastern sector of Berlin into the Soviet zone police forces.

This step is reported aimed at removing Paul Markgraf as chief of eastern sector police. Markgraf reportedly has been accused of engaging in behind-scenes intrigue against the Soviets.

The general who fled to western Germany was said to be one of three who accompanied Gen. Walter Von Seidlitz, founder of the Soviet-sponsored free Germany movement, into Berlin Oct. 16.

According to the Telegraf, the general fled by airplane, presumably into the British zone of western Germany, two days ago.

The Telegraf said his flight was discovered yesterday when he failed to attend a meeting of high Soviet-zone German police officials in Berlin.

The newspaper said that two additional high officers of the free German army also are fleeing to the western zones. The Telegraf explained it was withholding the names of the refugees and details of the flight to protect their families.

The newspaper said that as a result the Russians have placed all remaining key men in the free German movement under close guard.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"It's just an idea of my husband's to save wear and tear on the motor."

Community Chest

Question No. 11

Why wear a red feather?
Sidney L. Lockley, campaign chairman, said that this little poem supplies the answer most eloquently:

RED FEATHER
Red Feather flies a gallant flag,
And where it flies, you'll see
A town we can be proud to call
Our home community.

It represents the gifts we share,
The impulse of the heart
To give each fellow-man a chance,
Each child a decent start.

Don't think of it as "charity"
For someone else's need.
Red Feather works for all of us,
For all the human breed.

It guards our health, it heals our pain,
Writes joy on childhood's page,
Mends broken lives, and gently guides
The faltering steps of age.

Red Feather serves the year around,
It's made of sturdy stuff,
It speaks of many needs, and great,
So GIVE and give ENOUGH!

Seaman P. N. Dight Funeral On Friday

Body Of Navy Man Who Died In 1944 To Arrive Wednesday At Grove City

The body of Seaman 2-c Paul Nelson Dight, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Dight, 600 Craig street, Grove City, will arrive in Grove City Wednesday morning when it will be removed to the Cunningham funeral home where funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. E. H. Jones, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Grove City, will officiate at the services. Interment will take place in Woodland cemetery.

Seaman Dight died September 15, 1944, at the age of 18 years at Pelelieu on the island of Palau in the South Pacific area.

He was born December 13, 1925, in Grove City, where he attended the high school previous to joining the U. S. Navy. The navy man was a member of the First Presbyterian church and Bible school in Grove City.

Survivors include his parents, E. F. and Mabel Nelson Dight; two sisters, Mrs. Mildred Dight Haines, New Castle, and Miss Edna Dight, at home; one brother, James S. Dight, Grove City, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Nelson, Grove City.

Friends may call at the Cunningham funeral home, Grove City, Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Railroad Urges Men To Aid Passengers

Through an illustrated pamphlet now being mailed to their homes, Pennsylvania Railroad employees will be briefed in the job of getting quick information to passengers in delayed trains and to those waiting in stations, as to the cause and probable length of such delays.

The pamphlet, which augments instructions of long standing, points out that while it is the first duty of train crews, if a delay occurs, to help get the wheels rolling again, their next responsibility is to end passengers' uncertainties by telling them what is wrong as soon as information is received, and how long the delay is likely to be, with such other help as may be desirable.

In text and cartoon the pamphlet outlines to trainmen, station and other employees specific situations involving delayed trains and indicates the announcements which should be made to passengers in each situation. It also suggests other ways of minimizing inconveniences to travelers.

In addition to its distribution to the homes of employees, the booklet, the railroad says, will be made the subject of continued discussion with the men and with the leaders of the railroad labor brotherhoods.

Rubber washers made of synthetic rubber, used on faucets, are said to last four times as long as those of natural rubber.

Thaddeus Students Plan Masquerade

Plans are being made at the Thaddeus Stevens grade school on the East Side for a gala celebration of Halloween with their annual visit to the aged ladies of the Almira Home included in their round of fun. They will present favors to the ladies who appreciate being remembered by the youngsters.

Friday afternoon a time of merriment will take place when the boys and girls will come disguised as witches, animals, elves and many other imitations of characters found in their story books. Lessons will be pushed aside temporarily for the big event which will include a parade with prizes to be given for the best costume and finally refreshments for all.

George Davis represented the Gra-Y club of the school at a district gathering held at Sewickley over the past week end. Four squads of cheerleaders are being trained at the school for the coming basketball games in which the students will be participating.

Members of the fourth grade class will take part in the B.P.W. show to be held in the Cathedral this week. They will appear in the luncheon scene.

The Federal-state milk program will be instituted in the school as well as other schools of the city next week.

MAKES NEW RECORD
MIAMI, Oct. 26.—(INS)—An Eastern Air Lines Constellation pilot who landed in Miami today said his four-engine transport flew from Newark, N. J., to Washington Monday in the record time of 34 minutes.

Capt. Paul B. Woolley said the flight shaved 19 minutes and 45 seconds off the previous commercial record between the two points.

Woolley said his plane, sandwiched along by a strong tail wind, averaged 370 miles an hour and hit a top speed of 400 miles an hour. The Constellation passed briefly in Washington on route to Miami.

What makes Johnny run?

So he won't be late for school! When class starts, he knows he has to be there—on hand—on time.

That's the way it is with electricity too. It runs—as fast as the speed of light—to be on hand, on time, every time you flip a switch.

Your electric service is so ready, so dependable, that you can take it for granted. Yet it's the biggest bargain in anybody's budget. Never before has electricity done so much to make life happy and easy and healthy—at so little cost!

Dewey Victory Seems Certain

Growing Belief In Political Circles That Win May Be Landslide

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special To Central Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—There is a growing belief in political circles that GOP presidential candidate Dewey will win No. 2 by landslide proportions approaching the late President Roosevelt's 1936 triumph.

In that year his opponent, former Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas, received the electoral votes of only two New England states—Maine and Vermont.

A Dewey victory has been considered certain ever since the New York governor was nominated last June in Philadelphia, and the extent of the prospective victory appears to be growing daily.

Two factors are contributing to the unmistakable evidence that a Dewey landslide is in the offing.

The first is the president's cancelled plan to send Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson as a personal peace envoy to Stalin at the height of the UN conference in Paris.

This is considered by the experts to be one of the "prize boners" of the political campaign.

The second factor is the method used by Mr. Truman in prosecuting his campaign.

There is a growing feeling that Mr. Truman has made all his campaign arguments too early in the game.

Mr. Dewey, on the other hand, is regarded as certain to be set to take the gloves off and play an all-out game during the campaign's closing days.

SPATZ BACK IN HARNESS?
The top air strategist of World War II may be back in active service soon.

Gen. Carl (Tooky) Spaatz, who retired a little while ago as commanding general of the Air Force, is being groomed for secretary of the air of GOP presidential candidate Dewey wins Nov. 2.

As far as is publicly known, Spaatz has no politics, but high political on both sides regard his tactical knowledge and high reputation as assets to the nation in the present crisis.

Spaatz is no politician, that is for sure. He has pulled many a "boner" in Washington social circles because of his forthrightness. However, it was this same forthrightness which secured him to congressional committees trying to find out what part of Air Force appropriations were vital and what part pork barrel.

Present Air Force Secretary Symington has done a fine job, but no one doubts that a change will be made with a switch to a GOP administration.

STEEL EXPORT CUT

The Commerce department is getting ready to cut steel export quotas again despite the demand for steel abroad and the excellent opportunity that exists to capture Germany's pre-war steel market.

This year steel exports are being reduced a million and a half tons. This will bring the total for 1948 to five million tons, or about 7.5 per cent of the domestic production, compared to 10.3 per cent exported in 1947.

Next year the slashing of the steel exports will be more difficult because of the accumulating momentum of the European recovery program. However, commerce experts declared that, despite ECA, the slash will be made.

What they plan to do is to give top priority to Marshall Plan countries, and channel a much larger proportion of exported steel products to them. This means a sharp proportion for Russia and her iron curtain satellites and other non-participating countries. They will be lucky if they get any heavy goods at all from the United States.

Two New Auto Body Plants Are Planned In Pittsburgh Area

DETROIT, Oct. 24.—(INS)—The Fisher Body Division of General Motors has announced plans for two new plants in the Pittsburgh area.

Production at a war surplus plant at Ambridge, Pa., is expected to begin within two months with initial employment of about 200 people.

J. J. Cronin, GM vice-president also announced, a site has been acquired for construction of a new stamping plant in Millin township on Camden Hill road. Employment at the new plant when it is completed will be about 25 hundred persons.

Cronin explained the Ambridge installation will be used for cutting steel for stamping operations. The new stamping plant will fabricate body parts.

He added Pittsburgh was selected as the site for the new Fisher plants "because it is well situated geographically for inbound as well as outbound shipments."

Twenty Thousand Draftees Asked For Army In January

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(INS)—The Army today asked Selective Service to provide 20,000 draftees in January.

The request was the third made of Selective Service by the Army. The first call was for 10,000 men in November and the second was for 15,000 in December.

No request for men was made by the Navy, Air Force or Marine Corps.

The January inductions, plus estimated enlistments, will bring the Army to its quota strength under the expansion program on February 1.

The Army said that future draft calls will be based on voluntary enlistments, but that after January it would be possible to accept 20,000 selectees per month.

KILLS RATS AS THEY COME IN FOR SHELTER

The approach of cold weather encourages rats to move in from the open for shelter and feed in farm buildings, making this an opportune time to initiate rat-killing campaigns.

Rats consume about one bushel of grain each in a year, but the greater loss which they cause arises from the grain and feed rendered unfit for use. Rats feed not only on grain, but also on fruits and vegetables and damage sacks and other containers.

The use of poison bait offers one of the best methods of rat control when bait is used properly. Information on the use of poison bait may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

For each rat killed someone is in pocket about $2.

The loss sustained by every citizen of Lawrence County can be reduced by using modern control methods. These methods involve the use of: (1) ratproofing buildings, (2) cleaning up and removing all places that may harbor rats around buildings, (3) trapping, (4) poisoning, (5) fumigating burrows.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—

(INS)—Mrs. Cecelia Atella, 22-year-old expectant mother, was back in jail today despite her acquittal on murder charges in the fatal shooting of her husband, Ernest, 25.

A jury found Mrs. Atella not guilty of the murder accusation after deliberating 55 minutes. The Commonwealth announced that she would be tried also on an involuntary manslaughter indictment.

Mrs. Atella testified that she meant to take her own life when she pulled the trigger of her husband's revolver. The slaying occurred last Aug. 18 in the office of a firm where Atella worked as a guard.

The defendant said she and her husband quarreled when he insisted that they live with his mother.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Construction of the 100-mile eastern extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike took another step forward today following opening of bids for preparation of the road-bed on a 4.36 mile link east of Mt. Hope, Lancaster county.

C. W. Good, Inc., Lancaster, was unofficial low bidder at $930,804 among 17 firms making offers on the project. The contract calls for grading and drainage of the new route.

Actual construction on the eastern extension got underway September 28 when Gov. James H. Duff broke ground on a similar project in York county, near the eastern terminus of the Harrisburg-Pittsburgh link.

ENGAGEMENT PROBLEMS OF A DIVORCED MAN

"I am divorced and now in love with another girl. Should I take her to meet my parents, brothers and sisters? (2) It is not convenient for us to go together to select her rings. Should I give her the money to buy them herself? How should I present the engagement ring and who should keep the wedding ring? (3) How should I introduce her to my parents? (4) I have upper and lower dentures that are so real looking that no one knows they are false teeth. Do you think I should tell her?

Answer: (1) By all means, take your fiancée to meet your family.

(2) If you cannot go together to select her rings, you should go alone and purchase rings you think she would like. Put the engagement ring on her finger and keep the wedding ring until the day of the ceremony when the best man carries it to the church and gives it to you to place on the bride's finger at the ring placing in the ceremony.

(3) Always introduce everyone to your mother—"Mother, this is Mary." Introduce your father to her—"Mary, this is my father." (4) I think perhaps you had better break the news to her about your dentures. She is bound to find it out some day.

Question: I am going with a close friend for an overnight visit at her sister's home. Since I do not know the sister very well, I should like to clear up these points: Should I take her a gift? Should anything be sent to her after my return home?

Answer: A gift is not really necessary but you may take something—perhaps an attractive box of candy. After you have returned from your all-night visit, you must write your hostess a letter thanking her for her hospitality and reiterating how much you enjoyed your visit. This should be done within three days after your return home.

Present your problems to Miss Marshal who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Rotary Leader Speaks Monday

District Governor Stanley A. Gillespie Points Way To Greater Service

SEES ROTARY IN ROLE OF PEACEMAKER

Stanley A. Gillespie of Greenville, district governor of District 175 of Rotary International, gave an inspiring address before members of the New Castle Rotary club on the occasion of his official visitation to the local club at their weekly luncheon in The Castleton Monday noon.

Mr. Gillespie gave members of the local club a picture of Rotary as he sees it through his own experiences as a Rotarian, and from his observations gained at the international convention recently in Quebec.

Rotary Must Keep Step
Rotary he said is making tremendous strides at the present time, and told members of the local club that it was their job, as well as his, to keep in step with it.

He pointed to the splendid work in building goodwill, which the Rotary Foundation is accomplishing, and of the plans that are being made through the foundation during the coming year, when 35 youths will be sent to colleges in other lands, and Rotary clubs in the war-stricken area will be rehabilitated.

Coming back from the International Convention at Quebec, Mr. Gillespie stated that he was more than ever convinced that he belonged to one of the greatest organizations in the world, and that if others would renew their faith, or would come to the realization of Rotary's great purposes, that it would become an even greater force for good.

Golden Rule In Action
Rotary, he stated, is the golden rule in action, and because of Rotary, many men have adopted its principles as their philosophy in life.

He cited the great work that Rotary is doing in aiding crippled children; in its work among the boys of the world; in vocational service, promoting higher ethics in business relations; in backing the United Nations; and in many other services.

In conclusion, he urged local Rotarians not to make a living, but to make a life. Lofty as Rotary's goals are, he said, they cannot be attained unless everyone is prepared to do his part. "If every club follows the course charted by Rotary International, we will find that world peace can be attained, and all of us together can make a splendid picture of Rotary, as we would want to make the world see it."

What They Say Of Chest Drive

REV. FR. P. M. McCARTER

Pastor, St. Mary's Church

Representing one of the Red Feather services, the Catholic Welfare Conference, I can speak as one who knows its worth.

Would that these words of mine might convey to you, dear reader, the idea of its worth and inspire you to generous giving, so that the Community Chest may not only continue the great work it is doing, but expand in such fashion as to meet the every need of this community.

JOHN J. MAHER

Cashier, Citizens' National Bank

When we think of a community, what myriads of thought is televised us of that part we all take in making it responsive to our pursuit of happiness. Just reflect for a few moments on the persons and things of your community that along the road of life have contributed so much to the enjoyment of its environment. Think, too, of what you have given towards that companionable society.

Community Chest symbolizes, too, a tremendous contribution to our pursuit of happiness, furnishing us the joys of beneficence through aiding its 13 agencies that carry on from the cradle to the grave.

Everybody benefits—Everybody gives.

Similar units have been formed in other parts of the state. The matter is being investigated further here.

Tax Assessment
Survey Started

State Tax Equalization Board
Has Two Men Inspecting
Lawrence County
Setup

OTHER EVENTS
IN COURT HOUSE

For the purpose of ascertaining of Lawrence county tax assessments are equitable, a survey has been started in the court house.

John J. Curran and Rufus Frick of the State Tax Equalization Board came to the court house Monday and began their work.

The purpose of the tax equalization board is stated in the title. It is for the purpose of equalizing tax assessments over the state to see where educational subsidies are most needed.

Under the plan a district that deliberately has low assessment valuation will be reduced in the state subsidy for education. It is likely that tax assessments for county purposes are inequitable in every county in the state, Lawrence county included.

NOT "GIVING THINGS AWAY"

Answering a recent criticism of city council that he was "giving away property owned by the city and schools" County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers said today.

"It seems rather far fetched to blame me for giving anything away, particularly when the property in the seventh ward was offered for sale strictly according to the law. Further, the action to sell the property was the action of the Board of County Commissioners of which I am the minority member."

"The plot has laid for years with no one paying much attention to it. Taxes piled up and it was sold under the law. The county commissioners do not own any property, they merely hold property sold for delinquent taxes as a trustee for the county, city and schools."

"The Lawrence County Co-Operative Association put in a bid for the property and the City of New Castle entered into competitive bidding. When the city's bid reached the limit of the delinquent taxes the city representatives stepped out and the Co-op made the high bid of $9850. The delinquent taxes totalled $9440.40. If the sale is approved this money will go to the city, schools and county in the ratio of their equity."

"The commissioners are holding another plot, hardly a stone's throw from the one in dispute. This other plot contains about 336,000 square feet, is level, is accessible, and already has a diamond and a tennis court upon it. This the commissioners are willing to hand over for recreation."

"The statement that it is inadequate for baseball is silly. From home plate to the short right field line is 365 feet. To deep center it is about 500 feet. Not even Ralph Kiner hits them that far."

"We have no quarrel with the city or schools. We are sworn to conduct the business of the county according to law. This we have done and will continue to do. When we can get all delinquent taxes paid up, and put a piece of property back onto the tax lists it looks like good business. The Co-Operative Association expects to erect a building at a cost of about $30,000 or $40,000 and this should mean about $400 taxes for the county, city and schools. As long as there is an adequate plot near the present one, which can be used for recreation who is getting hurt?"

ASKS ACTION

Raymond Burgo appeared before the county commissioners Monday morning and asked if some action could be speeded upon his attempt to purchase a piece of ground upon Taylor street. He placed a bid about 18 months ago. He was informed this was city property to which he replied he had asked city council for permission to lease the land for a used car lot. He said he was willing to grade the plot himself and pay the city $15 per month for it. Mr. Burgo said the city told him the intention was to put a flower garden there.

CHANGE COURT HOUSE HOURS
By action of the county commissioners Monday the working hours in the court house offices will be thirty a.m. to 4:30 p.m. beginning November 1. The hours have been from eight to four.

For a Strong, United America

Put this Winning Team in Washington

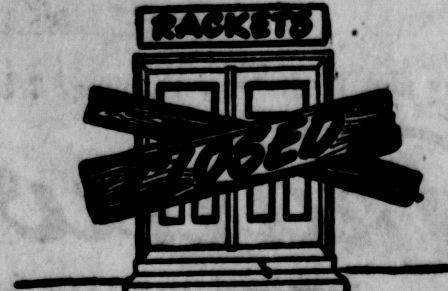

For strength and security at home and abroad, we must have a united nation. That calls for teamwork in government, teamwork between government and the people. It demands the ablest leadership.

Their lifetime records prove that Dewey and Warren will provide such leadership. They will untangle, unravel and unseat the muddled mess in Washington. They will deal intelligently and firmly with high prices, including the high price of government. They will establish clear-cut, consistent policies which will build a real foreign relations program and restore our leadership to world peace. They will unite Americans in teamwork with each other and with the world.

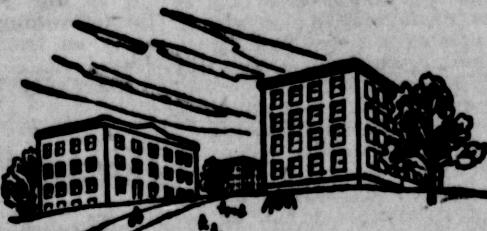

What have they done? Here's just a part of the answer:

As Governors of two of our greatest states, they have given the people well-organized and well-run government. They have cut out waste and extravagance, saved money for the taxpayers, reduced the public debt. New York taxpayers were saved 800 million dollars through Dewey's tax cuts; in California, Warren's tax reductions amounted to 500 millions.

Dewey and Warren do more than talk about tolerance; they have put it into law and practice. They do more than talk about cleaning up corruption and crime; as the nation's most successful district attorneys, they closed the racket and jailed the racketeers. You can depend on this—there will be no Communists in a government headed by Dewey and Warren!

These candidates are men of action, not just talkers. Dewey's low-rent housing plan, America's No. 1 attack on slums, provided homes for 160,000. Warren's administration has kept Californians housed all through the most rapid population growth in history. Both have outstanding programs for veterans.

They know the needs of agriculture, labor and business, because California and New York are leaders in industry and farming. They understand the people's everyday problems, because they know what it is to be poor—both of them started at the bottom and went to the top by making good on every job.

They've done it before; they'll do it again—for all the people of the United States!

For Teamwork in Government, Elect

And for complete teamwork, elect a Congress that will work with Dewey and Warren. Re-elect the Congress that reduced your income taxes against the bitter opposition of a Democrat Administration; the Congress that freed the 7½ million lowest-income taxpayers from all income taxes; that protected the rights of all workers; the 80th Congress that carried out the will of the people.

Suspension Of Nine Commuter Trains Proposed

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania railroad today proposed suspension of nine commuter trains operating out of Pittsburgh.

The PRR told the public utility commission it got "insufficient" revenue from the service. The claim was contained in an answer to the PUC's order for an investigation of the suspension proposed earlier.

The railroad said it was "suffering serious out-of-pocket losses" from operation of the trains. They were suspended September 27, but restored at the order of the PUC pending the investigation.

The PRR contended commuters had service from two other railroads and "numerous" other transportation facilities.

The PRR proposed eliminating three trains between Pittsburgh and Brownsville, three to North Trafford, two to Kiskiminetus and one to Greensburg, according to the PUC.

Strike Back At Truman's Speech

Brownell Declares 'Speech Is Attempt To Drag Campaign
Down To His Level'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(INS)—The Republicans struck back at President Truman today for his Chicago speech charging that powerful reactionary forces are working through the GOP in an effort to create a fascist dictatorship.

Herbert Brownell, Jr., Dewey-Warren campaign manager, declared that Mr. Truman's speech "is a transparent attempt to drag the campaign down to his own level".

Brownell said that the "inexcusable falsehoods in his speech are obvious but the clearest hypocrisy was in his plea for civil rights".

The GOP official declared that as a senator in 1942 Mr. Truman voted against allowing Negroes from poll tax states the right to vote. Brownell declared:

"By mud slinging he cannot dodge the official record of his votes in the United States senate."

Campaign In Final Week

See Landslide For Dewey—Close Senate Races In Some States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(INS)—One of the greatest political battles in American history enters its final week today in the struggle between Republicans and Democrats for control of the next senate.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey appears headed for a landslide victory over President Truman in the White House race while the voters seem ready to elect a safely Republican house of representatives. But the fate of the senate remains in doubt as the election drives head down the home stretch for next Tuesday's balloting.

The outcome of ten senate races will determine whether Republicans or Democrats organize the senate of the 81st Congress, convening next Jan. 3. Of these ten contests, the Republicans must win four and the Democrats must win seven to control the new senate. The Republicans, on the surface, would seem to have the easier task, although most of the contests are in traditional Democratic territory. Naturally, each side claims sure or probable victories in all ten races.

Later, Jack Mitchell, East Washington street, and Charles Richardson, Morton street, while looking for the car discovered $375 worth of war bonds on the seat of Zona's auto. They were turned in at the city police station.

VFW Will Sponsor Plan For Getting Citizens To Polls

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars will sponsor "Operation Ballot" to get voters November 3 in state communities have VFW posts to the polls election day.

Transportation for voters will be provided, but the VFW regretfully announced that it will be unable to furnish "baby-sitters" for parents willing to cast their ballot.

State Commander H. V. Hartman said the VFW will swing into action when the polls open and will function throughout the day under the direction of the organization's statewide registration committee.

"This committee registered an estimated 40,000 voters in the recent 60-day registration period," Hartman said. "Operation Ballot" is a VFW-originated movement toward attainment of better citizenship.

"Transportation will be provided in many communities, but no provision has been made for baby-sitters although requests for them have been received."

Stream Pollution

Progress Reported

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—(INS)—The commonwealth today reported progress in halting pollution of streams by state-owned institutions.

Bruce R. Dunlap, director of institutional management, said sewage treatment plants were state's institutions while plans were underway to combat wastes at six others.

Complying with orders of the Sanitary Water Board were the Philadelphia, Norristown, Retreat and Allentown mental hospitals and the Penhurst State School, according to Dunlap.

Arrangements were being made for other institutions to tie in with sewage treatment projects of surrounding communities, he reported.

RELIEF ROLLS IN STATE ARE LOWER

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's relief load dipped to 204,299 cases during the week ended October 16 when 29 persons left the rolls, it was reported today by the Department of Public Assistance.

"As is usual around this time of the year, the DPA stated, "overall employment conditions are at a fairly even level and will remain so for the next few weeks."

The report disclosed the burden was 5,669 persons below the level reported at the beginning of the year.

Austin On Record As Believing World Will Have Peace

LONDON, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Warren Austin is on record as believing there will be peace because of the firm policy of the western nations.

The chief American delegate to the U. N. in a speech at London's Central Hall said:

"I believe there will be peace because we are making it perfectly clear in advance that we are not willing to submit to extortion as the price of peace."

There was a brief outbreak of heckling when Austin referred to Communist influences in Europe but he received an enthusiastic ovation at the end of his speech.

LOOK OUT FOR PIN-WORMS

Recent medical reports reveal that an estimated 100 million children (and grown-ups too) are victims of pinworms. These worms, which are invisible to the naked eye, cause itching and discomfort in the rectum and around the anus. They are most common in children, but can also infest adults. The worms are passed from person to person or from person to animal. They can be found in soil, on food, and in the air. They are most common in children, but can also infest adults. Around Hollywood

By ROLAND HAYES
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26.—Arlene (The Doll) Dahl, one of the screen's most eligible bachelorettes, says she has never met a Hollywood wolf face-to-face.

That's what Miss Dahl said—and she gets around plenty.

The blue-eyed carrot-topped actress, who has held hands with many male celebrities, doesn't contend that there are no wolves on the prowl in the glamour jungle.

It's only that she has not yet encountered a single specimen in all her personal experience in movie-land.

She explained: "Whether or not a fellow begins to display wolfish tendencies depends entirely on the attitude of the girl."

Never Saw Wolf

Miss Dahl, currently the star in Walter Wanger's "Reign of Terror" at Eagle-Lion film factory, allows that the girls who are always crying wolf are, in a sense, indicting themselves.

In her blanket statement regarding her own failure to meet up, close range, with the species lupus, Miss Dahl even included a variety.

She has been snared around, for example, by one of Europe's dough-heaviest gents, Prince Ramon Lanza di Trabia of the royal family of Italy, and also by the hand-smooching Turhan Bey of Czech-Turkish parentage.

"No matter," she said, "how bold a front a man puts on, he never is too sure about how much an impression he is making on his female companion."

"Naturally, if he gets the least bit of encouragement, the guy feels entitled to make, uh, further overtures—but it is the gal herself who makes up his mind for him."

Some Gas Buggy

A $35,000 Rolls Royce roadster originally built in 1939 for the fabulous Maharaja of Baroda, Indian potentate much in the news recently, made its movie debut in

"The Fountainhead" out at Warner Brothers.

Gary Cooper and Patricia Neal took a spin in it. In the screen adaptation of the Ayn Rand best seller, Patricia portrays the daughter of a millionaire and the royal blue buggy is supposed to belong to her.

The car, long since discarded by the Maharaja, came into the possession of C. V. R. Mathias, a couple of years ago. The studio rented it for $150 a day.

Swanky Job

The Rolls Royce used in the flicker was one of several ordered by the Maharaja when he assumed the throne nine years ago. It was the least ostentatious of any of the jallopies, being upholstered in blue leather rather than the leopard skin generally used in the royal cars of Baroda.

The instrument panel is of mother of pearl and all of the shifts and brake levers are plated with pure gold leaf.

The Maharaja hied back to his country recently to answer charges he had blown ten million bucks in a six weeks' spree.

EXONERATE TAX COLLECTOR

Council met Monday in city hall and exonerated Mercantile Tax Collector James Mayberry of the collection of $853.06 mercantile tax. The tax was for 1945-46 and was uncollectable because, those who owed it, have gone out of business, Mayberry reported. Council approved payment to Mayberry of $857.65, as his commission today.

Shenango And Bessemer Prime For County Title Clash Thursday

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

COME 9 A. M. Monday, and the small game hunter will be in field and thicket with his shotgun and dog, hoping to bring down a rabbit or bird, a full four weeks of wild turkey, ringneck pheasant, rabbit and squirrel hunting having been declared by the Pennsylvania Game Commission. The season ends November 27. There is a curtailed season on turkey in 12 counties and a closed season in 24 counties. The commission has also decided to permit woodchuck shooting during the November period, with a bag limit of five, then close it until July, 1949, when the regular season is fixed by law—July 1 to September 30—becomes effective. Grouse season is held to one week, November 1 through November 6, to enable the birds to profit still further from a reportedly improved supply. Bobwhite Quail and Hungarian Partridges were cut from a month to two weeks, November 1 through November 15, primarily to give Bobwhites a chance to rehabilitate themselves. There are few, mighty few, quail in Lawrence county, and it is respectfully asked by real sportsmen that, hunters lower their guns when they see a quail, and let it go unharmed. In compliance with strong sentiment throughout the state to start the raccoon hunting and trapping season at the same time to put both groups on the same level, the commission opened them simultaneously on November 1, and restored the daily hunting limit to five. The season limit is 30 for both hunters and trappers. Bag limits for grouse, quail, Hungarian partridge, wild turkey, pheasant, rabbit, squirrel and hare remain the same as last year. Woodchuck may be hunted in unlimited numbers from November 1, through September 30, 1949. Grackles are unprotected from November 1, through September 30, 1949.

As customary, a separate bear season was declared from November 15 through November 30. Deer hunters will be permitted to hunt only antlered bucks, from November 30 through December 11.

Local horse admirers who attended the National Horse show in Harrisburg last week were Mr. and Mrs. James McGowan, John Kalajainen, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Walton, Mr. and Mrs. "Dutch" Emory, Mr. and Mrs. Ed McKibben, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Betts, Dorothy Rob Robinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grimm. Lawrence County Sportsman's association will trap and shoot about seven p. m., Wednesday at the Harbor. A man can be winning, yet lose. Frimstanes, take the fight between Jack Dempsey's protégé, Joe Wieden and Walter Hafer at Cincinnati. Wieden had Hafer down twice, but one of Hafer's punches caused a cut, and a severe one, above Wieden's eye, and he was declared the loser by a TKO. In the fight between Martin Doyle and Frankie Moran, it was only luck that prevented Moran from being a loser because of a bad cut incurred above one of his eyes. It would have been opened further had the fight been listed for 10 rounds, and he, too, might have been declared the loser of a fight he already had won. Charlie Fugate, who knocked out Tippy Larkin wants to fight Ray Robinson. Although he's slowing up, Sugar would beat him, if the match were made. Frankie Rose, the ex-fighter and umpire, brought out Frankie Moran. If recollection serves accurately Frankie matched, then handled him in Moran's first bout which was staged in the Washamock Avenue Gardens. Rose also brought out Romeo Posedel who long since has retired.

Don Sweney, the former heavyweight, was a Hercules in physique, being well-muscled being through blacksmithing, a trade he yet followed. Billy Fessler is no slouch making pen and ink caricatures. Almost every available minute is taken up on local howling alley. Recall the coyote shoot near Mt. Lebanon several years ago? Wonder if any more are in that district? There are some in the Harrisonburg district. They live in rock den along the Slippery Rock creek, according to a farmer. To say to be found in the rear of the alive with pheasants. Some are to be found in the rear of the Canada street and in Plain Grove district. They're said to be spotted. "Looks to me as though there are more rabbits and squirrel in the city than in the county", says Frankie DeMare of the Seventh Ward. Bill Jolly, the ex-promoter of boxing, says he has his eye on a heavyweight prospect he might start boxing.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 20.—The Tournament of Champions, announced plans today for a full winter season of boxing including matches with an important bonus on every division. The middleweight title bout between Ray Robinson and Steve Belton of Jersey City Dec. 2 is the most immediate objective of the T. of C.

Plan Six Bouts
At least eight more indoor matches are planned by the promoters before hitting the outdoor championship trail with Marcel Gaudin in June. Already plans are under way for the following six bouts:

A grid relationship broken five years ago, between New Castle and Washington, will be picked up again Friday night at the stadium, 8 p. m. This is the final home game of the season.

The last New Castle-Washington football game back in 1943 ended with New Castle winning 37 to 0. Over the span of years starting back in 1927, the series stands at 13 wins for Phil Bridenbaughs machine, and three wins for Washington, with one game a tie, 0-0 back in 1928.

Tickets Wednesday
Washington comes here victorious for the season to date, and the only comparison that can be drawn is the result of the Mt. Lebanon game, Lebanon having defeated Washington 26 to 6, and New Castle clubbed Mt. Lebanon 26 to 7.

Tickets for the game will go on sale Wednesday at the North street school at 9 o'clock. Ten tickets to a person.

Field, Kickoff At 3 O'Clock.

The Wabash Bears, already dated up for a Thanksgiving Day battle with the Ellwood City "Bolt-busters" at the stadium, will take on the Salem, O., VFW team at Union High field at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, it was announced by William Domenick.

Tickets for the game can be purchased from any of the players or William Domenick, president of the Bears organization.

Coaches Tomalillo, Russo and Melchiorre have called a practice session for every evening this week at 4:30 o'clock at the P. & L. E. field. Players should be prompt in reporting. It is expected that a large crowd will want to see the semi-pros in action Sunday.

Charley Trippi Is Moving Up

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—(INS)—Charley Trippi of Chicago Cards has moved from fifth to second place among leading ground gainers in the National Football league.

Trippi traveled 104 yards against Boston to rank behind Green Bay's Tony Canadeo. Tony has gained 381 yards on 70 attempts, while Trippi shows 330 yards for 47 tries.

Tom Fears, rookie end from Los Angeles, tops the pass receivers with 23 for 289 yards to supplant Hal Critter of the Washington Redskins. Mal Kutner of the Cards is ahead in touchdowns pass receptions with seven.

Willie Pep Defends Title Friday In New York

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Willie Pep, of Hartford, Conn., remains after all these years one of the best fighting machines ever produced in this country.

When he defends his featherweight title Friday night against Sandy Saddler at Madison Square Garden he will be going to bat for the 17th time with a good chance of enhancing his impressive record. He will be the top-heavy favorite.

In all those starts the little title-holder has been beaten only once and held to a draw once. Sammy Angott, long-since retired, beat Pep on points in the long ago and he was held even by Jimmy McAllister.

Won Title In 1946
He won the New York commission championship in 1942 and took the world title in 1946. Unless Sandy Saddler scores one of the biggest upsets of all time, Pep will maintain his long-standing position as the best 126-pound fighting man in the world.

It will take that kind of an upset to bring on a new title-holder, for, by this time, Pep has become a habit as the champion. He is not the greatest fighter in the world to watch in action, but he is effective.

Pep's forte is boxing coupled with speed. He handles his opponents with jabs and counters, and sometimes he doesn't only dazzle them but makes them wish they had stayed somewhere else.

Opponents Scarce
From the way he has been going for nearly 10 years it must be disheartening to the up and coming young featherweights who would like to get their clutches on that title. He is only 26 years old and looks as though he might go on for another decade.

He has been so consistently effective that it is hard to find opponents for him who will draw a payday into Madison Square Garden. He is always a top-heavy favorite and up to now has been unbeatable for a half dozen years.

In fact, that loss to Angott didn't take too much prestige away from him. Angott was a legitimate lightweight.

Friday night's set-to will draw a false-alarm gathering, because the bout is for the title, because 15 rounds of action and will find Pep back in there defending his crown for the first time in many months.

Saddler Good Puncher
Additional interest is added by the fact that Saddler is a good stout hitter and might somehow get in some good punches.

The 23-year-old Harlemite will have to catch Pep to land on him and that is the main difference between the two. Pep is the better boxer.

Saddler has an edge on hitting with a record of 63 knockouts in 68 starts. However, he has lost five bouts to guys who scarcely rate with Pep. Saddler must enjoy an extremely good evening and Pep must be way off his usual form for this one to end in anything except an easy win for the champion, yet it may be a good battle.

BABE RUTH LAID TO FINAL REST

Casket Containing Body Of Late
Home Run King Removed From Vault To Grave

PLEASANTVILLE, N. Y., Oct. 20.—(INS)—The saga of George Herman Ruth, baseball's all-time home run king, is at an official end today.

The body of baseball's greatest hitter was taken to its final resting place yesterday and buried on a hillside in the Gate of Heaven cemetery at Pleasantville.

A small group of mourners was hand as Ruth's casket was transferred from the cemetery receiving vault, where it has rested since funeral services at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York last Aug. 19, to the grave.

The group included Babe's widow, Mrs. Claire Ruth; his longtime business advisor, Commander J. Paul Carter; Mrs. Mae De Rose, a close friend; the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. George C. Erhardt, pastor of the Gate of Heaven parish, and John J. O'Donnell.

Dog Training Area Closed

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 20.—Starting today (October 26 and continuing through November 27) the dog training area at the Ellwood-Wampum Rod and Gun club will be closed to dog training.

Varmint traps being placed in the area during this period. Owners are warned not to allow their dogs to stray through the wire enclosure that surrounds the area during this period. Cooperation by dog owners will be greatly appreciated.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—(INS)—It's a perfect handful—just five—of teams that remain in the WPIAL Class AA football title pursuit today.

Over the weekend two contenders went down for the count in close games. Ambridge was the first to fall Friday night when the Bridge were defeated by Rochester, 19-16. Jeannette High bowed to Johnstown by the same score Saturday night.

Neither defeat can be classified as an upset. Jeannette has been getting by with a wing and a prayer most of the season, and in losing to Rochester, Ambridge need offer no excuses. The Rams are always tough.

This week Monongahela, New Kensington, Wilkinsburg, New Castle and Duquesne will prepare for further tests, some against tough teams.

Hopes To Follow In Daddy's Shoes

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Willie Pep grimaces as he takes a "left" to the head from his seven-year old son Willie, Jr. The featherweight king will risk his title Friday night at Madison Square Garden against Sandy Saddler of New York City. This is a 15-round bout.

Harry Markson Will Give Boxing Fans Big "Break"

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The boxing fan has received a break, if such a thing is possible, through the appointment of Harry Markson as the new managing director of the 20th Century Sporting Club.

Markson is a strange mixture of wisdom in the serpentine ways of pugilism and idealism. He also is dead on the level. He still thinks like a newspaper man, which is what he used to be before Mike Jacobs picked him up a dozen years ago and made him publicity director of the new 20th Century Club.

Jacobs Guiding Figure
As long as Jacobs was running the outfit with Joe Louis as the financial prop of the organization through his title defenses things went smoothly.

But when he became ill, a cousin, Sol Strauss, a lawyer, stepped in and the fans have had little to cheer about lately.

The fights have been terrible and the prices based on war-time influence. As a result the smallest gates in a decade were the rule during the past summer.

Scarcity Of Fighters
The excuse for the poor shows has been that there is a scarcity of able fighters, and this none will deny. However, it never occurred to the 20th Century and its partner, Madison Square Garden, that in offering an inferior product it should follow that asking price must be smaller.

Out of all this grew the new deal composed of Markson being advanced to managing director and Francis Albertanti being moved in as head of the publicity department.

No two guys ever took over jobs with greater support from those who know them in the newspaper business. And to repeat that old song, as boxing goes around her in the big town, so it goes elsewhere in this nation.

Total Abolisher
Markson is an avid reader of good books, a devotee of the opera, a pipe-smoker and one who shuns stimulating spirits and beverages in all forms. He probably drinks tea, although I never caught him at it.

He was one of the best boxing writers in the business until hired by Jacobs, who finally decided that the fellow probably could run the very boxing dodge better than anybody else. Markson undoubtedly will fill that bill admirably.

He is taking over at a bad time. Louis almost surely will retire after his fight next June and his successor as heavyweight champion won't be the kind of character to inspire vast applause in the public prints.

Plans Build-Up
The other divisions are not much better now, but Markson has expressed as his intention a buildup of boxers in this country and importations from abroad.

MORAN HOPES TO GAIN MORE SPEED FOR 'CAL' BATTLE

One week from tomorrow night, Frankie Moran will remove his bathrobe, harken to the bell then walk to the center of the ring and engage Bence Callahan of Boston in an eight-round bout in The Arena.

It will be his third bout since Jack Bessemer got the jump on Frankie and defeated him in Pittsburgh.

Since then Moran has decided on Eddie Bell, Canton, who previously had outpointed him twice, then topped his fistic joust off with an eighth-round decision over a good club-fighter, Martin Doyle of Detroit.

In the battles with Bell and Doyle, Frankie showed more speed than in prior fights, and during his training for Callahan is trying to develop greater speed than he did against Bell or Doyle.

Callahan is reported by the Jefferson A. C. to be a seasoned performer, having engaged in three score fights with only two "stops" being recorded against him.

Penn Totes Knockout
Billy Pozza, Ellwood City heavyweight, who sends his opponents to the hospital when he hits 'em, is matched to fight Charlie Lackey of Canton in the six-round semi-final.

Billy stopped Eddie Cross at Ellwood City then knocked out, Pettie Graham of Detroit in the second round. Graham recovered from a concussion in the New Castle hospital.

The Bill Bradley-Johnny Izzo, local middleweight six-round fight, should be a "hummer". Izzo proved too much for Bill in their first battle. Bill is training as he never trained before for the coming fight, he says.

Slug will feature the Les Leasure-Jack Butonovich, Monaca, 155-pound fight, while Willie Wright of Youngstown and Herb McDonald of Canton will open the show November 3.

Michigan-Irish Get High Rating

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(INS)—Class lines in college football were clearly drawn today in all sections of the nation except the southwest. Michigan and Notre Dame ranked one-two in the middle west, and probably nationally.

Army and Penn headed the parade in the east, and California reigned alone on the Pacific coast. North Carolina and Georgia Tech ruled the roost in the south, where Clemson also remained untied by knocking off South Carolina.

The list of teams with unblemished records was reduced to eight.

Martin, who weighed in at 160 for the bout was knocked out by Tommy Bell of Youngstown, Ohio.

Right To Head
Martin, a middleweight, sank to the canvas in the tenth round after being hit with a vicious right to the head. When the New Jersey fighter was unable to continue, a doctor was summoned.

He gave emergency treatment in the ring, and ordered Martin removed to the hospital after receiving the last rites of the Roman Catholic church.

Little 'Canes Win Third Straight; Latsko And Altman Score For Binders Eleven

New Castle junior varsity shut out Ellwood J. V. at Lincoln field in Ellwood yesterday afternoon, 15 to 0. It was the third straight win for the little 'Canes and they have yet to taste defeat.

With three minutes to play in the second period, Fullback Ray Latsko drove for 10 yards and the game's first score.

Score on Pass
Ray DeLillo fired a pass to Halfback Dick Altman midway in the third period for the second Red and Black T. D. The play covered about 30 yards.

In the final period a punt got by the Ellwood safety man in the end zone and before he could scoop it up and get going he was tackled behind his own goal. The safety gave New Castle a 15-to-0 victory margin.

Butler Jayvees play here next week in the last game for Coach Binders' eleven.

Bessemer Risking Underestimated Record With Turbulent Wildcat Eleven

Shenango's "Wildcats" invade Bessemer Thursday night for the final game in the Lawrence county Class B football league and an important tri-county league tussle. The kick-off is set for eight p. m.

Bessemer is the proud owner of an undefeated team that has made 192 points in seven straight wins and has had only 20 points scored against them. When Mercer tallied on the ground last Friday night it marked the first time that any team had been able to do that this year.

Shenango has three wins, three losses and a tie to date. Injuries to several key men have handicapped the Nahamun all season, and this game will be no exception. Shenango has garnered 74 points this season and has held their opponents to 44.

Perhaps according to the record Thursday night's clash doesn't shape up as being very much of a ball game. But in these ball games only the uninitiated go according to past performances, the players, coaches and loyal fans do not.

Last year's game is an example of what can happen in this rivalry. Bessemer, with its better record, was favored and played like the better ball club most of the afternoon, but was able to make only two points on a safety. The Wildcats who had gained only about 60 yards all day, caught fire with less than two minutes to play and moved 50 yards in three passes to score, kick the extra point and win, 7 to 2. Shenango's inspired play and brilliant finish put Frank Merriwell to shame.

If Bessemer can avoid such "goings on" this year, they will clinch the Lawrence county Class B championship and tri-county honors in one game. However, Shenango's victory would enable the Wildcats to tie for Lawrence county honors, knock Bessemer from any further W. P. I. A. L. consideration and jeopardize the "Cementers" chances to clinch the tri-county championship.

Following is the tri-county league standing:

Martinsburg	2	0	0
Zellenople	2	1	1
Shenango	3	1	2
Mercer	1	3	1
Evans City	1	4	1
Union	0	3	1

Sergeant-Captain Will Shoot It Out

QUANTICO, Va., Oct. 20.—(INS)—An army sergeant and a marine captain squared off today in a precision-plus battle for the national pistol shooting championship.

Defending title-holder Huellet Benner, a technical sergeant from Fort Knox, Ky., faces Capt. Thurman Berrier of Marine Corps headquarters in Washington in a duel with .38 caliber pistols.

Also participating in the contest will be 23 other pistol experts although they moved into the background yesterday after Benner and Berrier ended the first day's shooting in an uncanny tie.

Both men shot an 878 out of a possible 900 score. Their battle with .38 caliber guns was featured by a virtual neck-and-neck race throughout the day.

New Gulping Fad
In College World

Grasshopper Supplants Goldfish
Gobbling In Latest Campus
Notoriety

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—(INS)—A little hopping insect set the college world gulping today in the first major fad in almost a decade. From coast to coast the grasshopper has supplanted the goldfish gobbling and phonograph record chewing of 1939 in campus notoriety.

The latest form of competition in the field of higher education is a gulping contest. At Mercer university in Macon, Ga., when pretty Coed Ann... she'd eat a grasshopper.

a man might eat a live grasshopper for $5,000.
An Oklahoma A. & M. student, Clarence Jones, raised the ante. He demanded $5.
The latest report came today from Northwestern university when Coed Hazel Ford of Chicago upped the grasshopper eating price to $7.
"In these days of inflation I might even eat a scorpion—for $7," she said.
Now the grasshopper-eating fad is on in earnest. Indications point to locust-eating on every campus in the country patterned after the goldfish gulping era.
Collegiate gobbling of the live, writhing goldfish was developed when one Frank Pope of Franklin and Marshall college gulped down three fat finny beauties. He challenged Harvard undergraduates to better his achievement.
